

Norcal Shomrim
Proudly Presents:

Israel National Police

High Tech Crime & Street Drugs with additional guest speakers

Roy Valdman, Chief Superintendent of the Israel Police will discuss the famous Telegrass case - a complex and long term investigation leading to a large number of arrests related to the first ever phone app developed to anonymously purchase and deliver illegal street drugs. Additionally he will also speak about Israel's remarkably low crime rate and policing during times of war and conflict.

Israel Police Superintendent and Attaché to North America, Gabriel Bitton, will speak about his role as a liaison between the Israel National Police and US Law Enforcement.

DEA Assistant Regional Director (Ret) Bruce Goldberg, will discuss how he and his team of agents collaborated with the Ecuadorian Special Police and Military to uncover and investigate the first ever narco-submarine.

Ami Toben, American-Israeli security expert, surveillance detection specialist and author, will tell his unique story and talk about his experience and expertise.
